Ideal for larger families, visiting relatives, or simply to make the most of every floor. The kitchen and dining area together form the heart of the home, a place where indoor and outdoor living flow seamlessly into one another. At the front, you enjoy a spacious terrace with automatic awnings equipped with weather sensors, placing comfort and ease of use at the forefront. And a big plus is that nitpickers are available on the windows everywhere. At the rear, there is another asset: a fully enclosed terrace that can be opened completely. This allows you to enjoy extra living space all year round, both during the warm summer months and in the winter. A place where you can relax in all seasons. This home also scores exceptionally well in terms of practicality. Think of a separate laundry room (including washing machine and dryer), extra storage space, and a secure parking garage. Everything was designed with an eye for comfortable everyday living. The property is sold partially furnished and features air conditioning via an induction system on the ground floor, supplemented by two separate air conditioning units downstairs for a pleasant climate in every room. What makes this duplex truly special is the complete package. The space. The finish. The smart extras. The versatility of the layout. This is not an average apartment, but a home with character and potential. Located in one of the most sought-after residences in Torrevieja with a communal pool, close to the pink salt lakes, beaches, shops, and restaurants, this property combines a peaceful setting with excellent accessibility. A home you have to experience to fully understand what it has to offer. Contact us today for more information or a visit. Homes like this rarely come onto the market.
